1 DAY WORKSHOP

CLOSURES

Do you avoid jackets because you don't know how to close them? There is nothing like a beautifully done bound buttonhole to set your garment apart from the rest. Standard and triangular bound buttonholes will be covered. Also demonstrated will be machine and hand-worked buttonholes, buttonhole facings, fabric cords for loop and button closures, ideas for buttons, and other suggestions for closing up those jacket fronts. Bring your sewing machine and try some of these great techniques.

ALL LEVELS ARE WELCOME, SOME SEWING EXPERIENCE HELPFUL

She gives lectures and workshops to guilds, conferences, and craft centers all over the United States. SUPPLY LISTS

a. Each student including myself will need a table and chair (two students could share a large cafeteria type table). An extra tables would be helpful for samples, storyboards, etc. An electrical outlet will be necessary for each student, myself, and for 2 or 3 irons. There needs to be adequate power as each iron could draw 1500 watts. Also, 2 or 3 irons and ironing boards will be necessary for a class that size. (Irons should be sturdy, heavy, steam types, which do not automatically shut off). A garment rack for hanging samples will be needed. The room should be large enough for students to comfortably move around. A sewing machine should be made available for any student who can't bring one to class due to travel restrictions.

b. Students should bring:
